

This book is a curation of beautiful thoughts, happenings, poems and pictures on the subject of death.

Amanda Maney's continuing search for a little more joy guided her as she nursed her dying husband and navigated her grief.

Determination to find and practise uplifting thoughts about death have shaped a life of delight for Amanda who relishes life with her husband - now "in WiFi".

She offers this simple collection to soothe and encourage all those who want to feel better about death.

"We choose the thoughts we think about death.
We might as well choose really good ones!"
